

Natural Coconut Coir

Coconut Coir, also known as coconut fiber, is a natural and non-toxic bedding material designed specifically for pets. It is free from added chemicals, ensuring a safe and healthy environment for your animals.

Coir is a biodegradable product, meaning it is environmentally friendly and can naturally break down over time. This makes it a sustainable choice for pet bedding, minimizing its impact on the environment.

With its versatility, coir can be used as a comfortable and natural bedding option for various pets, including lizards, snakes, spiders, turtles, tortoises, iguanas, scorpions, hermit crabs, and more. It offers a non-toxic and chemical-free solution to enhance their living space.

Choose coconut coir as a bedding material for your pets and provide them with a safe, non-toxic, and biodegradable option. Create a comfortable and eco-friendly habitat that promotes the well-being of your cherished companions.
